Robert S. Kahn, a member of the Association of Southern California Defense Counsel, is a trial attorney at the firm's Pasadena office. Having more than 18 years' experience, Mr. Kahn has focused his practice on the defense and litigation of various general casualty matters, business and contract disputes, and employment issues.

Before joining Collins + Collins, Mr. Kahn spent several years working as in Insurance Defense Trial Attorney where he defended general liability matters. Most recently, in May 2022, he obtained a favorable trial verdict for his client who was alleged to have caused more than $1 million in damages. Prior to this, he also worked as an in-house counsel who delivered pragmatic and insightful litigation strategies and employment counseling for his corporate-clients, and he worked with small and medium sized firms defending various civil litigation matters.

A native of Chicago, Mr. Kahn has resided in California for more than 30 years. He obtained his law degree from Southwestern University in Los Angeles after receiving a bachelor's degree from the University of California at Santa Barbara, where he majored in Law & Society. In addition to being a licensed California attorney, Mr. Kahn is also admitted to the United States Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit, and the United States District Court, Central District of California.

Mr. Kahn is married and enjoys spending his down time cooking with his family, watching movies, listening to music, and playing poker.
